Bongo in the Congo, by Artistaan

- Write about your favourite part of the story—and why is it your favourite?
- Describe the strange creature in the story as you'd imagined it. Draw it too!
- This audio story was all about listening instead of reading or watching – close your eyes, and listen to the sounds around you – note down what you can hear.
- Create sounds from household objects around you – for example, tap your table with a pencil, pull on a stretched string, see what two objects sound like when brought together (carefully!).
- With the sounds that you have 'found' all around you, make up your own audio story.
